Comments: Testing chemicals on animals usually results in inaccurate data. It is also expensive & causes much needless suffering to animals. The ICCVAM was appointed to develop & approve of non-animal alternatives. Sadly, in its 10 years of existence, not many of these test methods have been approved for use. Its time to get updated.

Please approve & accept internationally validated non-animal methods including non-animal alternatives for skin & eye irritation. Also seek more testing in the USA.

Non-animal alternatives are more cost-effective & less cruel. Please adhere to the 5 year plan.

Thank you, Marilyn Evenson
